It is emphatically one of the very best literary newspapers in the Whole chunty, and deserves the unparable of the whole chunty, and deserves the unparable of the whole the whole thas met under its present enlightened and liberal proprietorship. The greater its circu saith in the State; the less probably; yet we must protounte it a most excellent journal, and worthy of the patronage of everybody. The contributors to the Post are among the finest writers in America, and the editor's articles are always characterized by the truth and tasts.—Jersey Blue, Canaden, N. J.

We have heretofore spaken is high terms of the merits of the Post, as one of the best file rary papers to be found any where. Its educing are written with a bility, and take a liberal, independent and comprehensive view of men and things.—Star and Advertiser, I it is deservedly one of the most popular public journals in the United States, combining as it does in a literary point of view, all the interest of the best magazines, with a vast amout of general intelligence.

Barber-Shop Poetry. Ain-" Ben Bolt."

Off, don't you remember I.ew Ransom, friend Joe, Lew Rausom, the Carber up town, Who smiles with delight, when you give him a call, And does up his shaving so brown.

In the neat harber shop on Main-street, friend Joe, Beneath the old green house so fine, He has fitted up his shelve with soaps of every scent, And the striped pele is his sign.

Upon his soft cushioned chair, old Joe, That spreads wide its arms for us all, Together we've sat in the room day time, And snoozed while he shaved us so well. Many Rarbers have tried in vain, old Joe, But their efforts can never compare; For the customers flock around the shop to see How tastefully he clips off the bair.

Four years have passed, or more, old Joe, Since Lew Ransom's nane was first hail'd, And his shop is deemed a blessing in truth, For to please he has never yet failed.

The Forest Remedies give immediate relief in Dyspepsia and Indigertion and one or two Boxes and as many Bottlee are warranted to cure the most severe cases of this distressing complaint.

The efficacy of the Forest Remedies in Rheumatism is very singular; none of the most distressing cases I have ever saw have been cured by them in ten or twelve days' time, while some other cases, (apparently not so had), it took nearly three months before the complaint yielded to the efficacy of the Remedies. This sometimes may be owing to a broken down constitution, but more frequently to some kind of narcoute drug taken at some former period, for I have always noticed it took longer to cure patient—who had taken mercury and other porsonous drugs.
